

– The Ida B. Wells Lecture Series –
African Americans in Entertainment Education Television Comedy from the 1970s and 1980s

Herman Otis Howard, Ph.D.
will discuss the beneficial and detrimental influences of TV shows such as “Good Times,” “The Jeffersons,” “Cosby Show” and “That’s My Mama,” whose intentionally pro-social messages educate and inspire audiences.

Thursday, February 14, 2013 • 11 a.m.

John L. Buskey Building
Dr. Denise Chapman Auditorium

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT NAME AT EMAIL ADDRESS AND/OR PHONE NUMBER.

Sponsored by the ASU Department of Communications, the ASU Black History Month Committee and the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication Minorities And Communication Division.

ASU

ALABAMA STATE UNIVERSITY