

CALL FOR NOMINEES

Ronald T. and Gayla D. Farrar Award in Media & Civil Rights History

Honoring University of South Carolina Professor Emeritus Ronald T. Farrar and his late wife, Gayla D. Farrar, this award recognizes the best journal article or chapter in an edited collection on the historical relationship between the media and civil rights.

Submitted articles or chapters should be works of historical scholarship and must have been published in 2013 or 2014. We encourage submissions that address the media and civil rights from a range of local/national/transnational contexts, periods, and perspectives.

Scholars may nominate and submit their own work or the work of others by sending four copies of the article/chapter and a cover letter describing the merits of the work. A national panel of experts will judge the contest.

The winner will receive a plaque and $1,000.

To receive the award, the winner must agree to present his or her work in a featured address at the Media & Civil Rights History Symposium scheduled for April 2-4, 2015, in Columbia, S.C. The winner's symposium expenses will be covered.

Previous recipients:

2013
Carol Stabile
Univ. of Oregon

"The Typhoid Marys of the Left: Gender, Race, and the Broadcast Business"

2012
Will Hustwit
Univ. of Mississippi

"From Caste to Color Blindness: James J. Kilpatrick's Segregationist Semantics"

2011
Gordon Mantler
Duke University

"The Press Did You In': The Poor People's Campaign and the Mass Media"

Mail nominations

Submissions of a cover letter and four copies of the article or chapter can be sent by first class U.S. Mail or overnight delivery. Late submissions will not be considered.

Submit Farrar Award nominations postmarked by Nov. 1, 2014:

Kenneth Campbell, Associate Professor
School of Journalism and Mass Communications, University of South Carolina
Columbia, SC 29208
E-mail: kencamp@mailbox.sc.edu

Please join us at the Media & Civil Rights History Symposium, a biennial conference hosted by the School of Journalism and Mass Communications, April 2-4, 2015, in Columbia, S.C.

Keynote Speaker: Peniel E. Joseph

Visit the Media & Civil Rights History Symposium web page for details on the Farrar Award and the 2015 Symposium.