

DOE SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Explore the possibilities

The Federal Energy Management Program (FEMP) administers a special DOE Scholars Program for Veterans. This program introduces students or recent college graduates to DOE and other federal agencies' mission and operations. As a participant in the DOE Scholars Program, you will have a competitive edge for familiarizing yourself with federal agencies functions while showcasing your education, talent, and skills.

Veterans are given preference with the Federal Energy Management Program which places interns at federal agencies in the Washington, D.C. area.

Disciplines: Engineering; physical sciences; environmental sciences; computer science and information technology; physics; business; policy; program management; mathematics; statistics; safety and health; accounting and finance; law; communications; and other energy related areas.

Eligibility: U.S. Citizens Only. Undergraduate, graduate or post-graduate of an accredited institute of higher education.

Veterans Preference Locations: Veterans are selected by the Federal Energy Management Program which places interns at federal agencies in the Washington, D.C. area.

Duration: June 8 - August 14, 2015

Deadline: Applications accepted October 15, 2014 through January 15, 2015.

Benefits: Stipends are $750 per week and $150 per week housing allowance. Inbound and outbound travel to and from the appointment site will be reimbursed up to a total of $1,000 for participants living more than 50 miles one way from their appointment site. Daily commute expenses are not covered.

Learn more and apply now at DOE Scholars (<http://orise.orau.gov/doescholars>). Be sure to see the profiles of veterans R.J. McIntosh and Sharon Spradling on our home page.

Note: An application to the DOE Scholars Program will enable you to be considered for selection by FEMP and other DOE Scholars Program sponsors. Benefits from other sponsors will vary.
