

Designing Courses for Significant Learning

Offered by Optimize Learning

Join us for this two-week online course! Our experienced coaches will provide hands-on guided practice in applying the principles of Integrated Course Design. The course is intended for a broad audience including faculty, adjunct instructors and instructional designers who wish to learn how to design courses that go beyond lecture, memorization, "teaching to the test" and other forms of "information in and information out."

Whether designing for online, face-to-face, or blended delivery, instructors who have learned to apply the principles of Integrated Course Design in the design of their own courses report greater student engagement, more long-term significant learning and increased instructor satisfaction.

Participants can expect to spend 8-10 hours/week participating in the course and completing activities.
