

Center for Dark Energy Biosphere Investigations Global Environmental Microbiology 2017 Summer Course

What: Residential, field-based, three week course

Where: University of Southern California and Catalina Island

When: June 11 – 30, 2017

Who: Undergraduates (2 & 4 year institutions)

First generation college students, women, and students of underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply

Cost: FREE! Travel, room, and board included

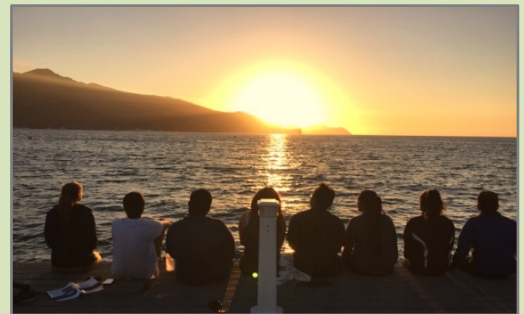

Ideal Student:

- Early career college, but interested in a science career
- Open and receptive to new experiences

Must be 18 years old, have taken a college-level science course, and be a US citizen or permanent resident to apply

Applications open December 5, 2016. Applications due Feb 1, 2017.

For more information: <http://www.darkenergybiosphere.org/education-diversity/for-undergraduates/gem-course/>

Center for Dark Energy Biosphere Investigations Global Environmental Microbiology 2017 Summer Course

What: Residential, field-based, three week course

Where: University of Southern California and Catalina Island

When: June 11 – 30, 2017

Who: Undergraduates (2 & 4 year institutions)

First generation college students, women, and students of underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply

Cost: FREE! Travel, room, and board included

Ideal Student:

- Early career college, but interested in a science career
- Open and receptive to new experiences

Must be 18 years old, have taken a college-level science course, and be a US citizen or permanent resident to apply

Applications open December 5, 2016. Applications due Feb 1, 2017.

For more information: <http://www.darkenergybiosphere.org/education-diversity/for-undergraduates/gem-course/>

